EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Steve P. Fallon on 8/13/07.

The application has been amended as follows:

In Claim 1, replace "Si" with "material".

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-23 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest available Prior Art of record, Standoff detection of Chemicals Using Porous Silicon "Smart Dust" Particles to Schmedake et al. (cited in IDS) teaches forming particles of porous silicon encoded with a Rugate structure by etching and fracturing. However, the reference fails to teach or render obvious the particles of the invention including particles that further spontaneously assemble and orient to sense a local environment comprising etching a first patterned layer having hydrophobic properties or surface affinity and treating a second patterned layer disposed oppositely the first patterned layer having hydrophilic properties or second surface affinity as claimed.

Further, the article Self-assembled Aggregates That Spontaneously Reconfigure Their Structures When Their Environment Changes to Mao et al. (cited in IDS) teach particles of PDMS doped with alumina that spontaneously assemble and orient to sense a local environment comprising a first patterned layer having hydrophobic properties and a second patterned layer disposed oppositely the first patterned layer having hydrophilic properties. However, Mao et al. fails to teach anything related to photonic crystal particles of porous material as claimed.

Further, the prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. U.S. Patents 6,130,748 and 6,897,965 teach forming a chemical sensor from porous silicon.

Art Unit: 1763

U.S. Patent 6,786,968 teaches forming photonic crystals from silicon. U.S. Patent 7,022,303 teaches self-assembling single crystals.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
